Richard Tucker: America’s Finest Tenor presented by Cantor Don Goldberg

Richard Tucker, who lived in Great Neck from 1948 on, began his singing career as a synagogue cantor, and as early as the 1930’s he became interested in becoming an operatic tenor. From his Metropolitan Opera debut in 1945, and for the next 30 years, Tucker took on a wide range of roles by composers such as Mozart, Verdi, and Halévy. Cantor Don Goldberg of Merrick, Long Island will discuss Richard Tucker’s rise to the top, and share his personal experience of singing with Tucker at the Met. He will play some of Richard Tucker’s rare, live performances. Don Goldberg, a respected educator, has been a professional cantor, opera and concert singer for over 52 years. He also hosted an opera program on Hofstra University radio for 11 years and has lectured extensively across the United States.

Celebrate Long Island Reads & Great Neck Reads

Bayview Book Club Discussion of Sutton by J.R. Moehringer: the 2013 Long Island Reads Great Neck Reads Selection

This year in April and May Great Neck Reads will join forces with Long Island Reads in celebrating Sutton, the new novel written by Long Island native J.R. Moehringer. Kicking off with the Bayview Book Club discussion at the Great Neck Library on April 11, the celebration will conclude on Sunday, May 19 with a personal appearance by the author at Plainview/Old Bethpage Library.

For more information, visit the Long Island Reads website at http://longislandreads.wordpress.com/. Blending vast research with vivid imagination, Sutton brings legendary bank robber Willie Sutton blazing back to life. Poignant, comic, and fast-paced, this vividly told story tells of a time of economic pain along with a distrust of banks that feels eerily modern, while unfolding a timeless story of doomed love.

Author Talk with Andrew L. Kane, PhD

Joshua: A Brooklyn Tale

Great Neck resident Andrew Kane, critically acclaimed novelist and psychologist, will be discussing his new novel Joshua: A Brooklyn Tale, a coming-of-age story about racism and anti-Semitism. Kane has been hailed by noted author Faye Kellerman as “a worthy successor to Chaim Potok,” adding that he “writes with keen wit and well crafted insight.” Kirkus Reviews called Joshua “an engaging and heartfelt tale,” while ForeWord Reviews called it “Gripping,” and Jews Book World called it “a fine novel.” Kane’s story explores the history of racial tensions and anti-Semitism in the Crown Heights community, told over four decades through the intertwining lives of three people, all wrestling with existential and family conflicts, troubled pasts, forbidden love, and unrealized dreams. Andrew Kane is a clinical psychologist in private practice, and lives in Great Neck with his wife, Debbie, and children, Max and Jessica.

A Message from the Board President, Marietta DiCamillo

I look forward to serving as President of the Great Neck Library with its many challenges. I believe we are at a crossroad in the Library’s history. The presidency comes with responsibility and tasks that I am happy to undertake.

In 2013, the Board will be busy. We must present the community with a building plan, which the taxpayers will hopefully support through a referendum vote. It seems like every day we are faced with repairs caused by aging mechanical, electric and plumbing equipment.

We are currently finalizing members of the Director’s Search Committee. For the first time, this committee will also include three residents. The committee will be led by Trustee Francine Krupski. Also included on the committee are three staff members, the Interim Director, Business Manager and entire Board. Director Search Committee meetings begin in March.

The expired staff contract is being negotiated in a manner that is fair to taxpayers and the staff. Everyone recognizes and appreciates the Library’s experienced staff.

The Great Neck Library will assume a leadership position and become a role model for other libraries. The Board is seeking a resolution to increasing Nassau Library System fees. We have reached out to our elected and appointed New York State officials (NYS Librarian Margolis, Senator Martins and Assemblywoman Schimel) and other member libraries. We will also be contacting other NYS agencies in the near future.

The above represents a few of the issues Great Neck Library must tackle and complete within the next several months. I am encouraged by the outpouring of good wishes from the entire Great Neck community. I sincerely thank you for your many words of kindness, commitment and overall support.

Wanted: Prospective Candidates for the Library Board of Trustees & Nominating Committee

The Nominating Committee of the Great Neck Library Association will begin its search for prospective candidates for openings that will occur in January 2014 on the Board of Trustees and the Nominating Committee. At the end of January 2014, terms will expire for two-year seats on the Board of Trustees currently held by Marietta DiCamillo and Michael Fuller, and one three-year seat on the Nominating Committee currently held by Joan Adickman.

Interested persons must be at least 18 years of age and a member of the Great Neck Library Association or a registered voter with the Nassau County Board of Elections by the Record Date of October 7, 2013. If you wish to be considered as a candidate for any of the above seats, please send a letter and resume so stating by June 14, 2013 to The Chair of the Nominating Committee, c/o The Great Neck Library, 159 Bayview Avenue, Great Neck, NY 11023.

New! zinio

The Great Neck Library is pleased to provide Zinio, an online magazine subscription service in digital format. Through the use of Zinio, patrons will be able to access entire issues of publications, both inside the Library or remotely on their computer, tablet or smart phone. The publications, chosen by staff members, will be the same as reading the actual print copy, with color images and advertisements. Back issues will also be available, beginning with January, 2013 issues. This service is available to Great Neck Library cardholders and fee-paying patrons. Check the Library’s website, www.greatnecklibrary.org for instructions on how to set up a Zinio account. The Library is very excited to offer this new service and anticipates that it will be extremely popular.

Main: Music Concert by the AM Duo featuring works for violin and guitar
The AM Duo, Emil Altschuler, violin and Jerome Mouffe, guitar perform ‘Noche Andaluza,’ a mostly Spanish program of fiery and elegant compositions and arrangements by de Falla, Albéniz, Bartok, Kreisler and Piazzolla. One of these gems is de Falla’s Siete Canciones Populares Españolas, which draws from Andalusian Fandango, specifically cante jondo. Kreisler’s brilliant and charming transcriptions simulate the sound of castanets and guitars through the effective use of ricochet bowings and pizzicato chords. Bartok’s Romanian Folk Dances, is a suite of energetic Transylvanian fiddle tunes, and Piazzolla revolutionized the tango form, from the nightclubs of Buenos Aires ultimately becoming fashionable in the salons of Paris. Doors open at 2:15 pm. 2:30 pm

Main: Music Concert - Bass Baritone, Daniel Klein and Mezzo Soprano Jessica Renfro perform Opera Arias & Show Tunes to Enchant
Bass Baritone, Daniel Klein, a Great Neck native, is renowned for his versatility. He captured the psychological terror of Tosca’s villain Scarpia at the Taconic Opera and then portrayed a complex Zurga struggling for nobility in their Les pecheurs de perles. He then once again portrayed a complex Zurga struggling for nobility in their Les pecheurs de perles, he brought swagger and comic timing to Fresno Grand Opera’s Pirate King in Pirates of Penzance and a lascivious sleaziness as Rambaldo in Opera Company of Middlebury’s La Rondine.

Mezzo Soprano, Jessica Renfro is described by critics as “the Ferrars on stage … alert and quick in her acting, and superb as a singer… ” Of her recent appearance as Cherubino in St. Petersburg Opera’s Le Nozze di Figaro, The Tampa Bay Performing Arts Examiner raved that she “brought an outstanding" liveliness to the role … the penetrating clarity of her voice coupled with her seemingly irresistible energy made her stage presence captivating.” 2:30 pm

Lakeville Branch Wednesday Evening Book Discussion A Reliable Wife by Robert Goolrick
Baltimore, a wealthy businessman with a troubled past who lives in a remote nineteenth-century Wisconsin town, has advertised for a reliable wife; and his ad is answered by Catherine Land, a woman who makes every effort to hide her own dark secrets.

“Goolrick twists a familiar story, refashioning it into something completely original. Many authors have employed the timeworn rural-man-advertisises-for-mail-order-bride plot device, but few have permeated their narratives with gothic elements and suspense to such great effect.” – BookPage Register online or call 466-8055, ext 232. 7 pm

Parkville Branch: Book Discussion Alias Grace by Margaret Atwood
In 1843, a 16-year-old Canadian housemaid named Grace Marks was tried for the murder of her employer and his mistress. The sensationalistic trial made headlines throughout the world, and the jury delivered a guilty verdict. Yet opinion remained fiercely divided about Marks – was she a spurned woman who had taken out her rage on two innocent victims, or was she an unwilling victim herself, caught up in a crime she was too young to understand? Some believe Grace is innocent; others think her evil or insane. In Alias Grace, Margaret Atwood reconstructs Marks’ story in fictional form – presenting both sides in a compelling Victorian murder mystery. Register online or call 466-8055, ext 271. 1:30 pm

Levels’ 39th Birthday Picnic!

Levels first opened its doors to the teens of Great Neck in May of 1974. Nearly four decades later, the program is still going strong. Join us on Saturday, June 8 and help us celebrate Levels’ 39th birthday with a teens-only party in Kings Point Park (by the Steamboat Road entrance) complete with barbeque, softball, frisbee and other outdoor games. The party will take place from 12 noon to 5:00 p.m. Food and drink will be sold at cost, so please bring money (for $5, you can eat and drink all day!)

Every feel like a freak who doesn’t fit in? Like people don’t see you for who you truly are inside? Like you have a strong urge to drink cow blood? “Yes, we’ve all been there...and so has the title character in our 2013 Spring Theatre Production, Bat Boy: The Musical. Performances will be held Thursday through Saturday, April 25, 26 & 27 at 8:00 p.m.

Based on stories from the infamous Weekly World News tabloid, Bat Boy is a weird and wickedly funny show in the tradition of Little Shop of Horrors and Urinetown. It tells the tale of a half-bat/half-human creature found in a cave near Hope Falls, West Virginia. He is taken to the home of the town veterinarian, where he finds compassion, education and even a budding romance. But when the local cows begin dying off, all fingers point to the sharp-fanged, big-eared stranger. Will Bat Boy be accepted by the narrow-minded townspeople? Will he and his girlfriend go on to create a race of Bat Babies? And will he ever discover the shocking secret of his true origin?

Bat Boy was written by Keythe Farley and Brian Flemming, with music and lyrics by Laurence O’Keefe. The Levels production marks the directing debut of South High senior Sara Gottlieb, and features choreography by Noah Aizer & Rissi Martino. Maddie Walker is stage manager. Set design is by Jasmine Lauren Brill & Karishma Mansukhani, and Aaron Mechanic as master electrician. The cast and musicians, all local middle and high school students, include Elora Aclin, Yuval Ben-Hayun, Spencer Berman, Max Cruz, Nicole Cruz, Richard Feder, Russell Katz, Samantha Kleinberg, Ricky Cole Lauro, Zachary Lee, Christine Morales, Taylor Sameyah, Emi Schaufeld, and Jonathan Schindler as “Bat Boy”.

PLEASE NOTE: Bat Boy contains some adult material. Audience discretion is advised. Doors open at 7:15 p.m. for ticketholders and 7:45 p.m. for non-ticketholders. Tickets are FREE of charge and are intended to guarantee seating. They can be requested at the Circulation Desk of all Great Neck Library facilities beginning Monday, April 8.

COMING THIS SUMMER!!!

Every August, Levels has a huge double-event that takes place in Great Neck’s Village Green. That’s right, it’s two great events in one — and we want YOU to be a part of it!

Levelspalooza is our outdoor festival of music and art. We want local teen musicians, artists, performers and other creative types to help us create a cool and amazing interactive event! Are you interested? Let us know.

Then, on Levelspalooza evening, we’ll have our 8th Annual Levels Film Festival! Student filmmakers from all of the Great Neck schools will present short films on the Great Neck Park District’s huge, inflatable movie screen. Do you have a film you want to show, or do you have an idea for one you want to make? We can help! Give us a call.

Our Next “Next Stage” Production...

Levels offers many different options for students to have their work seen by the public. “Next Stage” productions are put together outside of Levels by advanced students and created, funded and rehearsed independently, using Levels as a co-producer and performance venue. Past “Next Stage” productions have included last summer’s powerful Edges: A Song Cycle, the Rat Pack-style revue Straight From Vegas and the tour de force Charles Busch farce The Mystery of Irma Vep.

This time out, South High senior Anoush Baghdassarian presents her (untitled at press time) play, the story of a young woman named Lucine and the traumas she experienced during the Armenian Genocide. As Lucine’s older self writes in her diary, we see her youthful memories enacted onstage, forming a very personal portrait of a devastating time in world history. Performances are scheduled for the weekend of May 31. For final performance dates and showtimes, and any further information, please call Levels at (516) 466-8055, ext. 216.

5th & 6thGRADE PROGRAMS

The Spring session is drawing to a close, so look out for our Jr. Levels Showcase on Thursday, May 9 at 7:00 p.m. in Levels!!! And coming up in July/August is our Jr. Levels summer program, Camp Jr. Levels, which will include Arts & Crafts and theatre projects as well as special events and an end of summer party. Great Neck residents who will attend 5th or 6th grade in September are eligible. For more information, look for the Camp Jr. Levels newsletter, which will be e-mailed by the Great Neck Public School system to all 5th and 6th grade students, and will also be available in the Library and in Levels.
