Art vs. Commerce: When Smart Films Fail and Succeed presented by Max Alvarez
TUESDAY, DECEMBER 1
at 2:00 – 3:30 pm
Meeting ID: 841 9970 0787
Passcode: 367149

Many critically-acclaimed and enduring films lost money for their investors back in the day, including The Wizard of Oz, Citizen Kane, The Treasure of the Sierra Madre, Sweet Smell of Success, Raging Bull, and Quiz Show. On the other hand, a mature film targeting intelligent moviegoers can find occasional public acceptance: One Flew Over the Cuckoo’s Nest, On the Waterfront, La Dolce Vita, and Amadeus. Join film historian Max Alvarez for this 90-minute lecture (with film clips and archival images) on the history of box office highlights and low points for quality achievements in cinema.

Coastal Issues
presented by John T. Tanacredi, Ph.D.
WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 2
at 2:00 – 3:30 pm
Meeting ID: 818 0108 3085
Passcode: 447481

As Executive Director of CERCOM and principle investigator for the Coastal Hazards Program at Molloy College, Dr. Tanacredi will introduce the concept of Coastal Hazards and the threats they pose to people and property. We will look at some of the enduring films that explore our coastal resources and their role in our culture. We will consider the role of investors in helping to revive some of the more critically-acclaimed and endearing films lost money for their investors back in the day, including The Wizard of Oz, Citizen Kane, The Treasure of the Sierra Madre, Sweet Smell of Success, Raging Bull, and Quiz Show. On the other hand, a mature film targeting intelligent moviegoers can find occasional public acceptance: One Flew Over the Cuckoo’s Nest, On the Waterfront, La Dolce Vita, and Amadeus. Join film historian Max Alvarez for this 90-minute lecture (with film clips and archival images) on the history of box office highlights and low points for quality achievements in cinema.

Diego Rivera’s Pan American Unity
presented by Thomas Germano
THURSDAY, DECEMBER 3
at 2:00 – 3:30 pm
Meeting ID: 856 9549 8437
Passcode: 782026

Pan American Unity is a mural painted by Mexican artist Diego Rivera for the Art In Action exhibition at Treasure Island’s Golden Gate International (GGIE) in San Francisco, CA in 1930. The mural is composed of ten panels arranged in five sections, all of which relate Rivera’s firmly held belief that multicultural artistic expression will form into a unified cultural entity regardless of individual points of origin.

Love, Laughter and Latkes: The Golden Age of the Catskills presented by Dr. Linda Burghard
TUESDAY, DECEMBER 8
at 2:00 – 3:30 pm
Meeting ID: 831 2620 2391
Passcode: 231155

Days at the pool or the tennis court, nights in the casino or the comedy club. This was summer in the Catskills in the 40s, 50s and 60s, the glory days of the mountain playlands that warmly welcomed Yiddish-speaking immigrants and refugees along with their families. Join us for the story of the legendary Borscht Belt, the Yiddish vacationland that reshaped the Jewish-American experience, helped Americanize Holocaust survivors and profoundly changed our definition of comedy.

Frederick Law Olmstead and the Creation of Central Park presented by Emily Kies Folpe
TUESDAY, DECEMBER 15
at 2:00 – 3:30 pm
Meeting ID: 870 5848 6714
Passcode: 438492

Olmsted, working with Calvert Vaux, designed Central Park in response to a competition held in New York City in 1857. The Park quickly became a symbol of our national culture and its landscaping a model for thousands of municipal parks across the nation. We’ll discuss how the idea of the Park came about and consider the many innovative elements of its design that have endeared it to millions of visitors.
Come share your life experiences, knowledge, and wisdom about topics that matter, as we move from small talk to Big Talk. Everyone is wiser than any of us.
